

DOES A SALE HAVE A FACE?

At Inpulse Response Group it does.

From the moment your customer calls, we put a face on your company.

By the time our commissioned consultants pick-up the phone, they are already intimately familiar with your products and can represent them at their best. You've invested a considerable sum in your packaging, your marketing, and your media buy. When it's time for your customers to validate that expense, let Inpulse answer the call. Our clients enjoy the highest ratio of call-to-sale conversions in the business. Face it, isn't that the position you were hoping for?
